Notes

1. 'Lifehold' indicates who had either 'Copyhold', 'Lease for Lives', or 'Lease for Years' 'contract' of ownership with George, Lord Rivers for the numbered property. This does not necessarily mean that the person named was in occupation of that property; it may have been rented out to another person. It should also be noted that some names written as, for example, Thornes should be read as Thorne's, ie possessive case is implied but not made clear. Names such as these have to be considered case by case.
2. 'Remarks' include margin notes from Admeasurement Book. 'Remarks' in coloured italics have been included as additional information, where these are considered relevant or necessary for clarification.
3. 'Barton' is a Farmyard. 'Rick Barton' (No 179) is assumed to be a Farmyard reserved for ricks of hay or corn. Similarly, 'Cow Barton' (No 13) and 'Green Barton' (No 46) are assumed to be variables of a 'Barton', indicating specific descriptions of use.
4. 'Helliars Corner' (No 68) appears to be name given at that time to corner of Long Street and Duck Street.
5. Benjamin Groves Snr believed died 1797, Simeon 1819, Simon 1823. This suggests that the Admeasurement Book was kept updated from its original version in 1798 until at least 1823.
6. The 'allotment' referred to relates to the 1795 Inclosure (sic) of common lands in Cerne Abbas. Commissioned by The Rt Hon George, Lord Rivers, the key players in the Inclosure were the The Hon Robert Digby, Thomas Cockeram, Thomas Coombs, and John Gape (all 'Gentlemen'). Many of the above 'Lifehold' names were also included in the 'Articles of Agreement for Inclosing the Manor of Cerne Abbas' (held at the Dorset Archives Office), in addition to these key players, as 'entitled to the greatest part of the open and uninclosed fields and other open and commonable lands and grounds as copyhold...to be divided into specific shares', etc.
7. Rouncibal Lane was the name of the road immediately above Acreman Street going towards Minterne. It appears to end at the point where the road divides towards Up Cerne.
8. Occupations as recorded in 'Universal British Directory 1793-98', held in Dorset Record Office.

Questions

1. Where was Barton Lane (see entry between 69 and 70)?
2. What is a 'Barkhouse' (No 109)? A place for storing logs?
